WOODLAND INSURANCE

GIS MAPPING

The core work of our business, as a forest management company, is supported by our Technical Department which supports the operational works undertaken by Scottish Woodlands.

To complement our full range of Forest management services, we can also offer specialist technical advice and support.

Our highly skilled technical team includes experienced foresters, GIS mapping specialists, software developers and insurance advisors. This diversity of skill and experience allows us to deliver a wide range of bespoke services to meet our clients' many unique requirements.

In this digital age, effective management requires the efficient collection, processing and analysis of forest data. Our digital mapping services use industry leading software, remote sensing techniques and the latest in field data capture.

Data is securely stored and processed using our bespoke forestry specific digital mapping database & software, it includes custom developed workflows and processing tools that make even the most complex tasks simple and efficient.

For over 40 years, Scottish Woodlands has provided woodland owners with specialist woodland insurance protection which includes cover for fire, windthrow, and owners liability, plus a range of other policy features developed to protect an owner's investment.

Quotations for cover can be provided according to requirement and growers can be confident of an efficient and professional approach in the event of a claim on their policy.

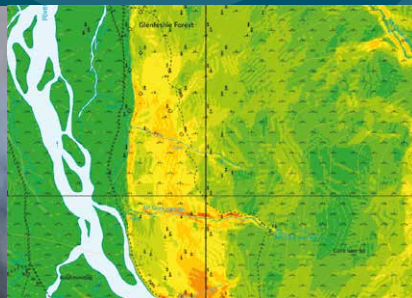

These specialist services can be provided as part of a package with our main services or independently according to requirement.
